

A person is lying face down on a blue massage table. Several white robotic arms are positioned around the person, performing bodywork. The background is dark and out of focus.

AESCAPE FOR AIRPORT LOUNGES

The amenity worth arriving early for.

Precision bodywork from a fully autonomous table, no therapist required. The same exceptional experience in every lounge, every open hour, with zero added headcount required, anywhere in the world.

THE OPPORTUNITY

The lounge battle is now an experience battle.

THE EXPERIENCE WAR

Premium lounges now compete on experiences that justify rising annual fees. The bar rises every year, and the investment is accelerating across issuers, airlines, and operators.

LABOR-BOUND WELLNESS

Human-delivered wellness can't be staffed, scheduled, or standardized across a network of lounges. Therapists don't scale, and quality varies with every hire.

NOTHING SIGNATURE

Showers, buffets, and massage chairs are table stakes. There is nothing in the lounge today that members can't find in the lounge next door.

Wellness is where the fight is going — and no one can deliver it consistently.

THE SOLUTION

An intelligent recovery system, built for the layover.

15 · 30 · 45 · 60-minute sessions, both sides of the body at once, for maximum efficiency — no oils, no undressing, no therapist required.

Personalized

Maps each body in real time and adapts pressure, focus, and technique. The guest stays in control, down to the music.

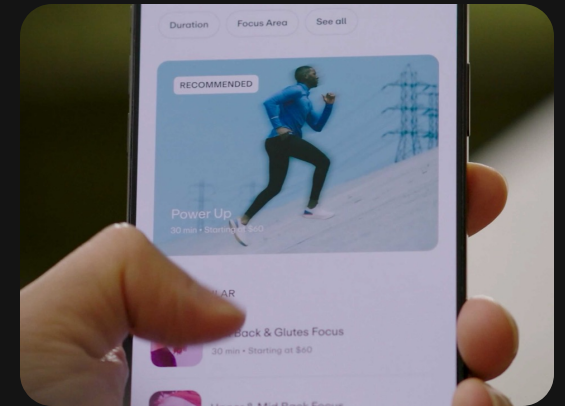

Consistent

The same expert, precision session every time. Zero provider variability, in every lounge you operate.

Always on

Runs every open hour with no added labor required. Guests stay clothed: no oil, no undressing, board-ready.

Measured

Reads tension, stiffness, and recovery, turning every session into evidence-based insight for the guest.

THE LOUNGE PLAY

Exclusive to members.

SIGNATURE

Reserve it for members and Aescape becomes a scarce, signature experience: a reason to arrive early, a reason to renew, a story members tell.

CONSISTENT

Capacity grows with your footprint, not your payroll — zero added headcount required. Every lounge you open delivers the same session as the last.

BOARD-READY

Built for the layover: guests stay clothed, sessions run 15 to 60 minutes, and both sides of the body are worked at once. They walk out board-ready, not oiled and rushed.

The massage chair era is over.

Built to out-deliver every alternative.
